NOMINATIONS CLOSE FOR CLASS OFFICERS; ELECTION COMMITTEE TO ANNOUNCE NOMINEES TODAY

That students will still be able to vote for candidates other than those who were nominated before the deadline, which was 11 o'clock last night, was assured by Don True, Student Body president, yesterday.

All official nominations are in now, however, and are to be released by the Student Council pending the official check on the qualifications of the candidates.

The election judge Gene Long and the committee. These will be published in tomorrow's Daily so students will have time to decide on their candidates before the class meetings Monday.

CARDS STAMPED

In the class meetings after the above mentioned nominations have been closed, the student will be given a ballot and his ASB card will be stamped either Freshman, Sophomore, Junior or Senior, depending on his present status. The student's card will then be punched to show that he has voted.

Election booths will be set up in the meetings and students will vote after short talks by the nominators. A large central booth will be set up after the elections in front of the Morris Dailey auditorium for students who are unable to attend the regularly scheduled meetings. This booth will accommodate all classes and will be open from 12 to 5 o'clock.

MEETING PLACES

The meeting places were tentatively announced as the Little Theater for Seniors, room S112 for Juniors, Men's gym for Sophomores, and the Morris Dailey auditorium for Freshmen.

Students without ASB cards will not be able to vote.

Seniors

Seniors Use Old System Of Voting; Meet Today At 11

Members of the Senior class will meet in the Little Theater this morning at 11:10 to elect officers for this quarter.

At the meeting of Senior orientation last Thursday the class decided to continue with the old way of electing officers rather than adopting the policy suggested by the Student Council.

As in past years, all business concerning the class will be carried on in the half-unit class. Programs will be presented during the weekly one-hour sessions.

Besides voting on the method of electing officers at the last meeting, Dean of Men Paul Pitman spoke on Selective Service, and Dr. James DeVoss told of his army experience.

Revelries Casting Set For Tomorrow Afternoon At 4

"An opportunity for anyone with singing or acting ability has been thrown in the laps of students at State. Casting for the Revelries 1942 show, 'Good News,' is scheduled for tomorrow between 4 and 7:30 in the auditorium," Len Baskin, student manager, announced.

"No experience is needed and we want everyone with any talent along these lines to turn out and try for a part in the show," Baskin said.

The dialogue and scores to this de Sylva show are still on reserve and any student may have access to them.

SONGS WANTED

Song writers are needed. No songs have been turned in, and those writers who have neglected to send in their songs should do so immediately. Songs may be dropped in the contribution box in the Publications office, Baskin revealed.

The scores of "Good News" have been put on reserve to aid song writers who may use the same lyrics and situations in writing new music.

AWA Plan Chapel Service, Jamboree And Fashion Show

Plans for starting a chapel service at San Jose State were discussed at a meeting of AWA members yesterday afternoon. Students would have charge and it would be held once a week.

"Students at San Jose State have wanted a chapel service for a long time and we hope to be able to organize a fifteen-minute program," Grace Marie McGrady, president, said.

A meeting will be held Monday night in the Student Union at which plans will be discussed. All organizations and people interested are invited to attend.

Also discussed at yesterday's meeting were plans for the AWA annual fashion show, the date of which has not been set. General chairman for the affair will be Jerry Averett.

The AWA Jamboree, one of the organization's winter quarter events, is scheduled for the middle of February. Committees were appointed and plans are under way. Arilee Hansen is general chairman.

Woman Struck By Auto Report

Will the girl who was struck by the city bus in front of the college at 7:55 o'clock yesterday morning please report to the Dean of Women? While no injury or damage was done, apparently, it is important that the record of this accident be completed.

GAY FRENCH COMEDY 'COTE D'AZUR' OPENS TONIGHT IN LITTLE THEATER; PLAY INCLUDES ENGLISH SYNOPSIS

Three-Act Play First Of The Quarter; Repeat Performance Given Tomorrow

Paris in the spring when France was care-free and gay will be brought to the audience tonight at the opening performance of the Birabeau-Dolley French comedy, "Cote d'Azur," in the Little Theater at 8:15 o'clock.

The play is being presented in French by the French honor society, Iota Delta Phi, and will be given again tomorrow night at the same time.

Frivolous, light-hearted and breezy is the three-act comedy, which takes the audience on an imaginary train trip to the Cote d'Azur on the French Riviera.

DEXTER RECITAL TAKES SPOTLIGHT FOR MUSICAL WEEK

By ELIZABETH MOODY

Taking the spotlight for the musical week in San Jose will be Sunday afternoon's piano recital presented by Benning Dexter of the college Musical department, to begin at 3:00 in the Little Theater. The program will be free of charge and open to the public.

Always popular among musical devotees since he came here in 1939, Dexter has chosen a program including works of Bach, Schubert, Schumann, Griffes, Chopin, and Rachmaninoff. This combines the classical with the romantic and modern schools of thought in music.

POPULAR HERE

This will be the first solo recital the pianist has given here since 1939, although he has appeared repeatedly in programs on the campus and elsewhere.

One of his most thoroughly acclaimed appearances here was that in which he was guest soloist with the college symphony in their autumn, 1940, concert, in which he played the piano solo for Brahms' Concerto for Piano and Orchestra.

OTTERSTEIN COMMANDS

Discussing Sunday's program, Adolph W. Otterstein, Music department head, remarks, "Dexter is an accomplished pianist. His technique is accurate, he always gives a thoughtful performance, and he has chosen a program for Sunday which should appeal to all music lovers, whatever their individual tastes."

Assistant Editors Named For Daily By Editor Finley

Appointment of assistant editors of the Spartan Daily staff was made yesterday following official appointment of the new editor for the winter quarter.

Wilbur Agee, senior journalism major from Whittier, was reappointed as Sports editor, while another senior student, Elizabeth Moody, will resume her position as Copy editor. Replacing Florence Scudero as Feature editor is Dorothy Christenson, fourth-year journalism major from Porterville.

Acting as Day editors this quarter will be Charles Cook, John Howe and Bill Morrow. On Thursdays the position of Day editor will be alternated among the newer members of the staff, as well as the editorships for feature, sports, and copy reading. From this practice, junior members of the staff will be fully prepared to assume the responsibilities of the Daily after the graduation of senior students.

On the trip, shy and timid Helene, a telephone girl, suddenly appears, glamorous and sophisticated, and Brodier, her boss, portrayed by Dr. Boris Gregory, falls instantly in love with her.

TWO AT A TIME

It does not bother Brodier that he has fallen in love with another woman while he is on a honeymoon with his rich wife, Yvonne, played by Jane Baccus.

ANOTHER MAN

Helene also has a husband, Duval, a detective, who is hired by Brodier to search for Helene, who has disappeared. Brodier does not know that Duval, played by Barney Murphy, is the husband of the mysterious woman he loves.

An English synopsis of the comedy is included on the program to help people who do not speak French fluently to understand the action of the play.

Program Planned By Campus Service Men's Committee

Application of the three major aims of the Service Men's committee will be the problem facing the delegates to the second conference sponsored by the group, which will be held Saturday from 9-12 in the Student Union.

Working toward the organization of a model service men's program on the campus, delegates from every organization will be present to discuss projects that might be carried on. Later plans of the committee include presenting the program to other colleges and keeping these colleges in contact with one another so that each may share the ideas and experiences of the others.

Some of the projects that might be adopted are: (1) holding dances for the men in service; (2) inviting the men to dinners sponsored by fraternities and other organizations; (3) putting on plays and variety shows at the various army posts.

In conjunction with this last type of program, an audition of college talent will be held Friday, January 23. Students with musical, dramatic, or other talents are asked to volunteer their services to make this project a success. The audition will be given by an army official in charge of soldier recreation.

At the conference last Saturday, Rex Gardiner was elected permanent chairman of the committee, and Florence Booth, assistant chairman.

Both had been working as chairmen of the original Service Men's committee and had spent much time in conference with army officials to learn the best means by which San Jose State college students could participate in service men's welfare and civilian defense.

LET'S STUDY NOW

America is at war!

We have been challenged by the Axis powers . . . the "have-not" nations . . . who by sheer will power, self-denial, and regimentation have been able to create enough strength and power to destroy our peace and challenge our future security.

The only way to combat this force and stop the Axis is to hit back with their favorite weapon . . . by disciplining ourselves, by will power and self-denial. We can't stall around, procrastinate, or linger; there's been enough of that. The time to start is now . . . today!

Every person in this country will have to do his job well, and our job is to learn. Education is something that can't be lost or taken away from us. Start now by buckling down to studying instead of waiting until the end of the quarter.

You may be going into the Army or Navy, but after the war is over, what then? You will have to apply the education you received at San Jose State college in a job. Make the most of your opportunity now and learn all you can with the view of using it, if not now, later.

We may not be able to come back and finish college; and therefore we should exert every effort to acquire practical knowledge in the last few months we may have in college. We'll be able to use it . . . it won't be wasted.

Let's get to work.

Loomis

GET BEHIND IT

With San Jose the headquarters for thousands of troops, most of them strangers and with the recent need of civilian defense training, the establishment of a model service men's program to be conducted on the campus is to be taken seriously and given the fullest cooperation.

The chief aims of this organization as outlined at the last committee meeting are (1) to organize a model service men's program on the campus of San Jose State college; (2) to present the plans of this program to the colleges of the nation; and (3) to keep colleges in contact with each other so that each may share the ideas and experiences of the others.

This will require the cooperation of not only the social and service organizations of the campus but of every individual. It is a chance for students who are exempt from the service to finish their education and participate in National Defense. Some examples of the proposed work of organizations are dinners, parties, and open house for the service men.

Different departments of the school have already offered help. Talks at different high schools by the members of the Speech department, demonstration of incendiary bomb quenching by the student chemists, and variety shows by the Drama department, are some of the projects. The committee has met but once, and they have established a stable foundation. Their next meeting should organize the main functions of the project.

With a large student body of educated American citizens, such as we have, it should be possible to establish a very helpful unit, and, as the second proposal of the committee suggested, make San Jose State college the foundation of campus aid to National Defense and an example for other colleges to follow.

• FOR SERVICE CONTRIBUTIONS

Dear Editor:

I'm terribly sorry to have taken so long to write, but feel sure that you will understand when I say that spare minutes have been rare down here at Camp Roberts since Pearl Harbor. Between blackouts, guard duty, checking in equipment of men leaving camp, and getting the men onto the trains or the truck convoys, personal matters have been pushed aside, and I do mean aside.

But things have slackened for the afternoon. So, an answer to your letter. I received the first copy of the Daily, Friday, December 5. And what a pleasant surprise that was! I've enjoyed very much reading the "goings-on" at school, especially the feud between Botts, Otterstein, etc. Sounds like things are really perking on the ole campus.

Also let me say that your column dedicated to the service men is really a treat. Reading the letters of former school mates establishes a link that can be appreciated most by one who is in one branch of the service or another. I'm certain that all ex-Spartans enjoy knowing what the others are doing.

Good luck to you and the Spartan Daily. Keep up the good work.

Sincerely yours,

— Corp. Robert Garcia.

(Corporal Garcia's letter was received during vacation and enclosed a dollar for the Daily's toy-pile fund.)

They're Here --- They're Everywhere

At San Jose State the women get grease in their hair.
At University of California they are required.
At Stanford University they are even giving them free.

What? Defense courses.

Well, maybe the women here haven't quite got grease in their hair from the auto mechanics defense courses as yet, but the instructors report that they look very business-like in their overalls.

And at State the response to the National Service Defense courses has been so strong that it is probable they will be continued in the spring quarter.

At California, President Sproul has announced that every student on the seven campuses will be required to take a national defense course next quarter.

Tuition-free courses at Stanford emphasize the importance this university attaches to the defense angle in the portals of learning.

P. E. Minors: Sign up in the Women's gym for badminton, ping-pong party, followed by pot-luck supper from 5 to 7:00 p.m. Thursday, January 22.

Badminton club: Club will meet tonight at 7:00 o'clock. All minton players are welcome.

The Blackouts took the lead in the "A" intramural cage tourney yesterday noon by winning a rather close but very slow tilt from the Devils, 16-12.

YAMADA HIGH

Yamada was again high man in the "B" league as he led his team to a victory over the Unknowns with six points. Leroy Joachim led the Unknowns bowed into the cage yesterday and managed to win two points and a half to the once defeated 3 A team, 24-4, in the lopsided game of the tourney as yet.

GAMES TODAY

James Farley and Ken Bailey are the winners with 10 points each for high honors. Today in the "B" league the Devils will be attempting to win the column at the expense of the Droopsies, who have yet to win a game. The Blue Devil five won a one-sided victory Tuesday to the Bombers.

PLAY-OFF SCHEDULED

The second game the Bombers will be seeking victory No. 2 at the expense of the Owls, also playing their first game of the tourney. The winners of each league will take it out for the intramural championship the last week of the quarter, states Coach Carroll.

Frosh Hoopsters Busted Out 49-48 by Menlo Jaysee

Although they exhibited their best passing and floor play of the season, Coach Frank Carroll's frosh basketball team dropped a thriller to the Menlo Junior college Oaks, 48 to 49, in the Menlo Division last night.

Paul Corbustero, Spartlet forward, was high-point man of the game and kept the Oaks on the defensive throughout most of the game. The Frosh took the lead in the contest and led at the 23 to 23.

At the beginning of the third quarter the Carrollmen tallied six points, while not giving any. Hill scored two buckets and McConnell one. The remainder of the quarter and the beginning of the next saw the Menlo boys gradually overtake the Spartlet quintet until with only six minutes to go the score was 49-48.

From here on out it was a case of tit-for-tat with Menlo having the edge at the gun.

Diederick, Menlo's star forward, was second high scorer with 14 points. McConnell and Hill, for Spartlet, followed with 12 and 11 points respectively.

The Frosh will tangle with the Salinas Jaysee five Monday night.

Former San Jose Boxer Gives Trophy

Above is George Latka, donator of the trophy to be presented to the outstanding individual boxer in the annual Novice Boxing tournament scheduled for January 20 through 22. Latka, former student and boxing star at San Jose State, now ranks among the top ten lightweights in the professional field.

Boxers On Spartan Hall Team Named For Annual Novice Tournament

By BILL MORROW

"Every man fighting for us is a potential champion," declared Dick Miyagawa when queried as to the prospects of victory for his and Jack Oney's Spartan Hall boxing team in the Novice tournament next week.

"At least three of our men are definite varsity candidates, and I'm sure our team will be well represented in the finals," Miyagawa added.

Frank Minini, quarterback on the San Jose football team this season, and a champion shotputter as well, will be the big boy in the heavyweight division for the Spartan Hall team. Minini is one of those tabbed by Miyagawa as of varsity caliber.

LIGHT-HEAVY CUMMINGS

Jim Cummings will be the light-heavy, fighting at 175 pounds. He has looked good in training, and is also a coming varsity man, says Dick.

One of State's better all-round athletes will be fighting in the 155-pound division on the team. Roy Diedericksen, soccer and basketball standout for the past two years, is expected to give a good account of himself with the gloves on behalf of the Hall.

In the 135-pound class will be Sergio Bonetti, a newcomer but a "good man," say his managers, and Don Haas and Gus Rocque will fight at 127 and 120 pounds respectively.

HAAS AT 127

Haas trained for the novice tournament last year, but was victimized by a sprained ankle which forced him out of his first bout. A better turn of luck this year should find him a strong contender in this year's novice bouts.

Rocque is the third varsity potentiality on whom Miyagawa and Oney are depending, and is expected to show up well among the small fighters.

Tomorrow Eckert Hall's team, managed by Russ Hovfendahl and Dave Siemon, will be named and prospects looked over.

STUDENT COUNCIL VOTES 23 LETTERS TO FOOTBALL TEAM

Only 9 Lettermen Now In School; 18 Other Players Given Service Honors

With final approval voted by the Student Council at its last meeting, 23 members of last season's football squad are now eligible to receive their letterman sweaters. Eighteen other players were awarded service honors.

Of the 23 men receiving sweaters, only 9 are in school at the present time. The service award list contains 12 names of men still in school. Bert Robinson is the only first stringer that is in school at the present time.

Trackmen Meet

Winter Announces Merger Of Frosh Team With Varsity

By NIELS NIELSEN

Because of the new conference ruling, making freshman athletes eligible for competition on varsity teams, the freshman track team has been eliminated and several already scheduled meets with junior colleges cancelled.

Extensive track training will begin in the next day or two, with only five weeks left before the first indoor meet in San Francisco.

Once under way the tracksters will work out, rain or shine. Whenever the condition of the track won't permit running, Coach Bud Winter will move his forces into the gym, where they will exercise.

Men desiring to compete on San Jose State's varsity track team will sign up with Coach Bud Winter at the track team meeting in room S31 at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Every man who signed up for track for credit must attend, and all who are interested in track are invited to be present, stated Winter. Moving pictures of track meets will be shown, and the coming season discussed.

"Although the Spartan track squad is potentially a great team, it will be two years before we can expect much in the way of victories," cautioned Winter, thinking of the competition his team will meet.

Many of his men have not reached the shaving stage but will be forced to compete against some of the greatest runners in the nation—men that have been in the sport spotlight for several seasons.

TEAM OF YOUNGSTERS

It is unreasonable to expect a college freshman to defeat such men as Grover Klemmer and Hal Davis, yet Winter's team of youngsters will meet these same athletes and others who are equally good in their events. Not once will they meet, but often.

The talk of the greatest track team on the coast is a bit premature. Among the freshmen there is a wealth of good material and there is little doubt that if they stay in college they will develop into a strong squad.

Swimming Group Start Plans For Extravaganza

Plans were made for the spring swim extravaganza at the first meeting of the quarter held by the Swimming club Monday.

At the business meeting preceding the "swim practice," discussion also centered on the Swimming Conference to be held February 14.

San Jose State is to be host to 87 other colleges and junior colleges at this conference. It will be held from 9:30 to 2:30 and includes swimming meets, group water games, demonstrations of use of paddle boards and swim fins by San Jose women, rhythm swimming, and use of paddle boards and swim fins by anyone.

DR. BRAUER REPORTS ON LECTURE BY COLONEL LYON OF CHEMICAL WARFARE SERVICE, U. S. ARMY

By BOB MANN

Several members of the science department heard a talk on chemical warfare by U. S. Army. Here is their report.

Dr. Brauer, Dr. Peterson, Dr. Stinson, Dr. Schmoldt, Dr. Todd, and Dr. Botts were present when Colonel Lyon of the U. S. Army Chemical Warfare Service gave a talk on the fighting of incendiary bombs and war gases.

GAS TYPES

The most usable gases that are employed in war are the two most dreaded types: Mustard gas and Lewisite gas. If these gas fumes come in contact with any part of the body they will cause severe injury. If on the other hand they come in direct contact with the eyes or the nose the effect is fatal. Airplanes are now equipped to spray these gases over a large area in a very short time. The only known way to counteract these gas fumes is with chloride of lime. This lime is sprayed about the gassed area.

INCENDIARY DEFENSE

Incendiary bombs are made of magnesium metal, and burn at a very high temperature. Once this magnesium is allowed to burn, it is impossible to put it out. When the fire has just begun it is possible to spray around the bottom of the bomb, just where it is embedded in the earth, and put out the flame. If the flames are high and water is sprayed on top, a terrific explosion will result. Fire extinguishers are no good in the case of incendiary bombs. Sand is a very good thing to use when water is not available.

FILL BATH TUB

Colonel Lyon said that it is a good idea to fill the bath tub with water while an air raid is on. This is done in case the water main is hit and the water is shut off. "A bath tub full of water has saved many a life in London," said Colonel Lyon. "Get under cover as soon as the air raid sirens sound, and do not stand near windows. It is advisable to stand against a wall or in a doorway."

Colonel Lyon states that chemical warfare is without doubt the most-to-be-feared type of fighting. Although cities have not been gassed as yet, this does not mean that they will not be. It is advisable to take every precaution against this inhuman type of warfare.

Lower Classmen In Speech Contest

"Freshmen and sophomores interested in speech should sign up for the speaking contest sponsored by Native Daughters of the Golden West by Friday afternoon," Miss Lucie Lawson, speech instructor, announced yesterday. Contestants should sign in Miss Lawson's office in the Speech wing.

The talks should not exceed 10 minutes in length and pertain "to California history, present or past." Regional awards of $5 and $2.50 and State prizes of $25 and $15 are offered.

Health Notice

The following people have appointments for Monday, January 19, in the Health office, at 11:00, for chest x-rays:

Betty McPheeters, Jane Dwyer, Bobby McPheeters, Joyce Dowhan, Florence Wool, Frances Shambaugh, Mary Lou Wilson.

NEW FIRST AID CLASSES START

Tying in with national defense and the emergency situation are the new classes in first aid started only this quarter.

Proving extremely popular, the classes already have an overflow enrollment of 175 students.

Another class attracting a good deal of attention is the instructor course taught by Miss Grace Plum. This class turns out qualified instructors who can teach first aid to others under Red Cross supervision.

According to Miss Margaret Twombly, health office head, the need for persons skilled in home nursing is a vital one. "Even in time of peace, epidemics and disasters strike with a suddenness that demands the expert care of those versed in home nursing lore," stated Miss Twombly. At present the home nursing class has only 15 enrollees, although more than twice that number can be given instruction.

Instructor's Book Revised, Presented In New Edition

Hartley E. Jackson, head of the Industrial Arts department, has revised his book, "26 Lead Soldiers," and the new edition, "Newspaper Typography," will be used by Stanford university in teaching a course in the techniques of publishing.

"26 Lead Soldiers" was used by Mr. Jackson in teaching elementary printing at San Jose State college. The new edition has chapters on Newspaper Headlines and Paper and Ink. Emphasis on the newspaper viewpoint has been maintained throughout.

Taylor Announces Opening For Yell Leader Assistant

There is an opening for an assistant yell leader, announces Head Yell Leader Tommy Taylor. Anyone wishing to try for the position should see Taylor before the next basketball game.

The opening for assistant was made when Bill Harris resigned from the position.

NO LUNCHES IN AWA REST ROOM

The committee for Associated Women's Activities asks that all women students who have been leaving their lunches in the AWA rest room discontinue this practice.

The room is principally for the use of those who are ill and who want rest and quiet. Odors from the lunches are making the room uninhabitable for these students.

After Friday, all lunches left in the room will be removed to the women's dressing room at the north end of the hall. A custodian will be placed in charge of the AWA room to insure rest and quiet for those who are ill.

Ski club: Group will meet today at 12:30 o'clock in room 11.

Florence Booth Chosen As Forum Speaker On KFRC

Florence Booth, senior speech major and varsity debate member, has been chosen to represent San Jose State on the KFRC Inter-Collegiate forum Sunday, January 25, 11:15 a.m., Miss Lucie Lawson, debate instructor, announced yesterday.

Other schools participating in the forum are COP, USF, and Stanford. The topic of discussion will be "What Is the Place of Arts in a War-torn World?"

On Tuesday, at 1:00 p.m., the representatives of the various schools will meet and hold a preliminary discussion of the topic here at San Jose State.

Former Student Appointed To U. S. Air Station

Leon Sparrow, who attended San Jose State college from 1939 to 1941, has entered the United States Naval Air station at Corpus Christi, Texas, as an aviation cadet.

On completion of his training at Corpus Christi he will be commissioned as an ensign in the United States Naval reserve. He completed his primary training at Oakland, where he was company commander. At the present time he is platoon commander.

While at San Jose Sparrow was a member of the water polo teams and was an advertising major. He is a member of Delta Theta Omega, on-campus social fraternity.

Sparrow transferred from Fullerton junior college with an AA degree.

Asilomar Group Holds Meeting

The Asilomar delegation held a business meeting in the Student Center Monday evening in which plans of action to make public Asilomar ideas on the college campus were considered.

Committee heads appointed for the chapel committee are Jean Follette and Rex Gardiner. The question whether the "Y" groups should merge into a Student Christian association group was discussed.

"The delegates have revealed extreme enthusiasm for Asilomar," according to Sam Zones, college "Y" president.

Red Cross Offers Special Knitting Instruction Daily

Knitting instruction will be given in the Red Cross room from 10 to 4 daily this quarter by Mrs. Hartley Jackson.

Knitting is still being conducted in room 36 in the Home Economics building, the regular Red Cross headquarters. A special table has been set up and screened off at the back of the room instead of having a special room for this activity as was originally planned.

Miss Pauline Lynch, director of Red Cross work, announces that there is as yet no sweater yarn but there is some available for anklets and wristlets for the shelter suits.

Another addition to the Red Cross work room is the table that has been set up for those teachers and students who may wish to come in and sew at irregular intervals. This "visitors' table" will be for those who are not signed up for regular periods.
